

Now that you are registered for the "Make a Difference (and Make Money) Teaching Teachers" seminar, here's what to expect next:

1. You can expect to receive emails on a fairly regular basis from me. I like to keep people updated on what is happening and what is coming up.

Note: This is part of why I must have your most current email address. And, if by any chance you aren't receiving at least one email every week or 10 days, then you need to contact me, because something isn't getting through.

2. Various teleseminars are scheduled and you may register for any and all of them. You may do that right from the website or you may wait until I send you information via email. It's up to you, but the main idea is this: Stay connected so you don't miss out on anything!
3. The password-protected blog for members of the 2008 Make a Difference folks will be up and running soon. I will let you know how to log on and what the best ways are that you can interact with your colleagues (most of whom you won't have met yet!)
4. You tell me! What else do you want/need to be happening as you prepare for this life-changing experience? Just let me know and I'll see what I can put into motion for you and the others.

If you know others who are perfect for this learning experience, please send them to the website: www.MakeaDifferenceandMakeMoney.com or let me know who they are and I will contact them. The best way is for you to encourage particular individuals to attend. Word-of-mouth encouragement from friends, family, or colleagues makes the biggest impact.

Thanks and I look forward to further communication and then meeting you via the teleseminars and the spring/summer workshops!

Respectfully,
